

From Wonder to Wonder

From one wonder to another
The rare beauties of life endear
The heart and soul of every man . . .
To live his life without fear.

From gazing on a greening lea,
From observing a sparrow's flight,
From watching sunrise in the east . . .
One awaits the promised night.

One may admire the tallest tree,
Notice trembling limbs in the wind;
Or hear a crow raving loudly . . .
These wonders I recommend.

From wonder to wonder daily
God's Wondrous Gifts enrich our lives;
Every heart and soul replenished . . .
Each man's fearless spirit thrives.
