

Everything I Should Be

In You I place my fullest trust;
You're the Anchor of my soul.
You've saved me from the evil sorts,
Delivered me, made me whole.

Persecuted and ridiculed,
My strong faith met acid test.
My eyes looked skyward up to You,
A rationale I deemed best.

In placing my trust in You, Lord,
I carry on, find more strength.
I face the critics of my faith
And find my true self at length.

Everything I should be, Dear Lord,
Your Light has guided my way.
It brightly shines in my own life
And is Present every day.

Henry W. Gurley